Plan smarter, faster, and more accurately.

iQ·link®XG Solo delivers all the features of our full iQ·linkXG Enterprise solution. Used to design and manage over 300,000 links worldwide, iQ·linkXG is the tool of choice for high quality networks. Compare it to the other low cost alternative and you'll find iQ·linkXG Solo delivers so much more.

CAN YOUR PLANNING TOOL DO THIS?

- Maintain very high levels of data integrity and security through the use of a powerful relational database.
- Multiple options for expert support and access to a free online discussion forum.
- Ensure greater planning accuracy by automatically checking for input errors and conflicts in real time.
- Increase your planning speed with rapid design and fast, efficient interference analysis.
- Reduce your overall CAPEX cost and increase channel reuse by making better use of your available spectrum.
- Future-proof your plans with advanced features such as comprehensive support for adaptive modulation radios.
- Offer an upgrade path with the ability to design and manage an unlimited number of microwave links.

Pay only for what you need.

As an ala carte solution iQ·link®XG Solo is designed for smaller projects. It includes the iQ·linkXG planning tool as a single-user license with FREE upgrades for the first year and FREE support through an online discussion forum and secure technical support portal. As your needs grow you can add other options to your iQ·linkXG Solo solution:
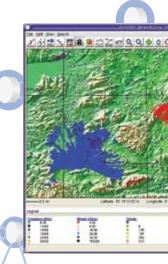

- Add a support package and get access to Comsearch's expert engineers.
- Purchase an upgrade option to receive new versions of your iQ·linkXG Solo solution as they are released throughout each year.
- When you're ready, move up to the iQ·linkXG Enterprise solution, the ultimate multi-user solution with full support.

iQ·linkXG Solo is the ideal solution for smaller projects for those customers looking to reduce CAPEX and OPEX, while also improving the quality of their planning.

Get started, there's nothing stopping you.
